

Venting and Flaring on Federal Lands

In 2014, more than 66 billion cubic feet of natural gas was wasted on federal lands.

This is enough gas to meet the energy needs of roughly 700,000 households for one year.

Federal and state taxpayers do not receive royalties for most gas that is flared or vented from federal lands.