Note any departures from Standards Rules 1-2, 1-3, 1-4, plus any USPAP-related issues requiring disclosure:
APPRAISAL DEVELOPMENT AND REPORTING PROCESS: SUMMARY REPORT This is a Summary Appraisal Report which is intended to comply with the reporting requirements set fourth under Standards Rule
2-2(b) of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Fractice for a Summary Appraisal Report. As such, it presents only summary discussion of the data, reasoning, and analysis that were used in the appraisal process to develop the appraiser's opinion of value. Supporting documentation that is not provided with the report concerning the data, reasoning, and analyses is retained in the appraiser's file. The depth of the discussion contained in this report is specific to the needs of the client and for the intended use stated in the report. The appraiser is not responsible for unsuthorized use of this report. To develop the opinion of value, the appraisar performed a complete appraisal process as defined by the Uniform Standards value, the appraisar performed a complete appraisar process as defined by the outside of of Professional Appraisal Practice. This means that no departures from Standard 1 were invoked.
DEPARTURES permitted under Standard 1 of USPAP have not been invoked. This is not in conflict with the fact that Sales Comparison and Cost Approaches have been employed exclusive of the Income Approach, USPAP permits certain exclusions, without invoking departure, when correlated to the absence of valid market support. In this instance, the Income Approach is not a valid appraisal method based on observations that this market does not correlate value for this type of property, to its potential to generate income. As such, competitive rental data for this type of property is virtually nonexistent. Concurrent with these observations, the Income Approach was not developed for presentation in this report.

Area Analysis

The Anchorage/Girdwood economy from 1984 to 1988 experienced a large decline and adjustment due to the decline in oil prices. The Anchorage realestate market was drastically effected because it was in over-supply in all sectors of the market in 1984 through 1987. In 1988 the economy began an improvement cycle with increasing employment. The housing market began it's improving cycle in 1989 as the inventory of housing stock was depleted. The housing market in all sectors of the market has now improved. This is reflected in the market by using the most current sales, pending sales and listings if necessary. The multifamily market is on the increase and has been for the last two years with rents on the increase and very little construction of new multifamily homes. We are now going into the fall months in which the market begins pick up with the coming of snow and the ski season. We are anticipating a some what slower 2000 than 1999/1998 due to a increase in interest rates.

Zoning

The subject is site is zoned R-11, with the property conforming to Municipality of Anchorage zoning codes.

Highest & best use

Per the Society of Real Estate Appraiser's terminology: "Highest and best use is that reasonable and probable use that supports the highest present value, as defined, as the effective date of the appraisal. Alternatively, that use, from among reasonably supported, financially feasible and which results in highest land value."

Under current zoning regulations, R-11, the permissible use of vacant site is to be improved with a detached single family residence. The highest and best use of the site, (as vacant), is to construct a good quality detached single family residence.

The highest and best use of the property is the present use, which is as developed.

Improvements

The subject is a older chalet style home which is being raised and a new first floor addition is being construct along with a garage work shop. The subjects new addition will have two bedroom, family room, mud room, sauna and bath. The second level will have a new kitchen and have some upgrading and remodeling. The project will be constructed of good quality and will comply with municipal build codes.

See attached building sketch for dimensions and floor plan.

Cost Approach

The reproduction cost new estimates are based on seasonal studies made with local contractors and cost estimators, which are correlated with estimates derived from the Marshall Swift Cost Manual. The estimated contributory values of the extras listed are derived from a combination of market extraction and depreciated unit in place estimates.

The depreciation estimate reflects only estimated physical depreciation which is applied at one percent per year from the effective age.

Functional obsolescence was noted and discussed under improvements if applicable.

Final Reconciliation

The income approach to value was not felt to be applicable due to the lack of rental history for the subject neighborhood. The cost approach setting the upper limits of value, with the market approach given more consideration. In the final reconciliation of value weight was given all sales with more weight given to the upper end of the range due to the subject having five bedroom, new kitchen and new addition.

In appraising properties in the Alyeska/Girdwood area it is typical to use older sales and to use larger than typical net and gross adjustments. This is a small ski community located approximately 40 miles south of Anchorage with varying design, style and size of homes 5 cabins. Many of the residents of Alyeska work in Anchorage and commute each day.

The sales analyzed were the most recent and comparable found in the Alyeska area in the subject size and/or price range in the last year.

Purpose & Scope of Appraisal

The purpose of the appraisal is for financing. The appraisal was requested National Bank of Alaska. This is a form appraisal report with addenda that is intended to meet the standards of the Appraisal Institute and the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice. The appraisal was not based on a requested minimum valuation, a specific valuation, or the approval of a loan. The subject and market data are researched through the following sources: Municipal offices of assessment, taxing, planning, zoning, and road maintenance; Alaska Market Data System (AMDS); Multiple listing Service (MLS); appraisers; broker; and our files. The attached certification and limiting conditions define the "Definition of Market Value" and the standards in which the appraiser follows. The date on the appraisal is the date the subject was inspected. Information was gathered and the report was prepared within a few days of that date. The analysis of a reasonable marketing time was researched through MLS statistics over the last six months and was concluded to be approximately 3

DEFINITION OF MARKET VALUE: The most probable price which a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller, each acting prudently, knowledgeably and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus. Implicit in this definition is the consummation of a sale as of a specified date and the passing of title from seller to buyer under conditions whereby: (1) buyer and seller are typically motivated; (2) both parties are well informed or well advised, and each acting in what he considers his own best interest; (3) a reasonable time is allowed for exposure in the open market; (4) payment is made in terms of cash in U.S. dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; and (5) the price represents the normal consideration for the property sold unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions* granted by anyone associated with the sale.

*Adjustments to the comparables must be made for special or creative financing or sales concessions. No adjustments are necessary for those costs which are normally paid by selfers as a result of tradition or law in a market area; these costs are readily identifiable since the selfer pays these costs in virtually all sales transactions. Special or creative financing adjustments can be made to the comparable property by comparisons to financing terms offered by a third party institutional lender that is not already involved in the property or transaction. Any adjustment should not be calculated on a mechanical dollar for dollar cost of the financing or concession but the dollar amount of any adjustment should approximate the market's reaction to the financing or concessions based on the approximate.
