Don't worry about the added cost, I expected it when we started making changes and we have arranged for a mortgage to pay off all the costs right away.

hi boss, may be too late to hook up the washer and dryer in your area , we did not plumb for it but i will try. ben an ellizabeth and the kids were down last evening and ben is quite impressed with the new house. it is really taking shape and you will be amazed at the size difference. we're adding about 1500 square feet and remaking the kitchen and old bathroom. the redmonds have done a marvelous job of contouring the land around the house and foundation, we will have some more bills from them. i keep worrying about the cost because we have added so much, i'm doing the best i can to keep the expense down. my best, bob
